- 100% of our clients would recommend us to others according to Gartner

"MDI continues to be a powerhouse in terms of customer feedback results. MDI is known for taking good care of clients. For an insurer looking for close vendor relationships, a fully functional system that supports a wide breadth of products across group and individual...this system continues to be the one that should be on the list." Celent

Examples of Worksite Products using MDI

Leaders Life (subsidiary of Farm Bureau) markets its own life products (and additional third party products) to employers. LLI utilizes TPA's to support some of its business. LLI uses electronic enrollment feeds for some business segments, electronic payment files from TPA's or employers, and FIMMAS Web Portal for group administrators. New business processing uses MIB, FIMMAS jet issue rules for underwriting, and Word templates for issue page production.

Teachers Life – Teachers Life of Canada uses FIMMAS to support business from school boards and teacher's associations. Several interfaces have been implemented for enrollment, payment processing, and change processing. Teachers has its own Web Portal that integrates with FIMMAS.

USBA – USBA markets to active military, retired military, and their families. They sell a variety of life, accident, hospital, child, and family products. USBA receives Manhattan Life – Manhattan acquired a large block of Worksite business from Humana and is expanding with its own product offerings. This includes many types of traditional life, Universal Life, disability, and various health and accident products. Manhattan has integrated FIMMAS with its own Web Portal.

About MDI

We're not your average run-of-the-mill digital insurance platform. We started as actuarial and insurance management consultants and evolved into a digital insurance platform company. Back in 1982, "digital" was not even a common term, but the manual, mind-bending complexities of the insurance business were well known. Over four decades, we built the features the industry needed most, and achieved major milestones for our clients and our business. We are now featured in the Gartner Life Insurance PAS and were honored with the Celent XCelent Award for Customer Service. Today we offer Individual, Group and Worksite product automation across broad areas, such as Life Insurance, Credit, Annuities and Health. Each of our clients is different. Each product portfolio, system design, and organizational structure needs a unique solution. MDI offers robust, time-tested pre-built functions, combined with expert customization, and skilled and passionate customer support. Learn more at www.MDIsoftware.io
